Winans' Kindergarten to Be Called Back

TO UNDO TWO CROOKED JOBS

At Three Dollars a Day and Mileage—Another Illustration of the Meaning of Democratic Economy.

LANSING, July 29.—Governor Winans this afternoon, after consultation with Chairman Campen of the state central committee, and having some legal points settled by Attorney General Ellis, concluded that a special session of the legislature could not be avoided, and therefore decided to sound the note of alarm to the squabblers to convene on or about August 10 and pass a new apportionment bill.

It was also decided that the present vacancies in the legislature would not be filled, as there could be no possible political advantage gained. It is very clear, with the entire strength of the party, the democrats would be unable to pass any bill having the slightest tinge of gerrymandering for the reason that it could not be made effective at the coming election without being given immediate effect which would require a two-thirds vote of both branches.

Bad for the Squabblers. The length of the session in excess of ten days will undoubtedly rest entirely with the democrats. Should they contend for partisan advantage it will simply prolong the struggle, yet compelling a complete surrender in the end. The whole business is a bad one for the squabblers and they are undecided which course has the least elements of injury.

A special session is bad enough, but a failure to call it might entail a worse condemnation upon the party.

An attempt will be made to show that the reflection is as great upon the 1893 act as upon the 1891 infamy.

It is the general opinion here that it will not avail, as three elections have been held under it without protest and it cannot be charged with the responsibility of a special session.

It was decided not to issue the call until Monday, although August 10 was practically settled upon as the date.

WINANS' RIVAL

The Gay Ellis May Cut Out the Governor.

LANSING, Mich., July 29.—The gubernatorial question is still the subject of more or less gossip. There is no longer any doubt that both Attorney General Ellis and Governor Winans are regarded by each other as rivals, and that Mr. Ellis to a considerable degree has changed his attitude upon the question within the past two weeks.

Flirtations with the people's party are being indulged in by both, with odds apparently in favor of Ellis, and it is evident that their relations must soon become strained. Mr. Ellis is, no doubt, more nearly in accord with the platform of the people's party than Governor Winans, while the latter is much more in accord with the democratic Chicago platform.

It is believed by some that Ellis would be much the stronger candidate if fusion is possible, while others do not believe the democrats could afford to or would endorse Ellis were he nominated by the people's party.

The governor is the evident choice of the democrat party organization and would be cheerfully endorsed did the Jackson convention place him at the head of its ticket. The action would be accepted as an accession to democracy and inspire a ray of hope to take the party into the campaign.

Prominent people's party men here, however, predict that Ellis will be the nominee of the Jackson convention and E. H. Belden for lieutenant governor, unless he pretends to make the race for senator. The rest of the state is Charles Barnes of Calhoun for secretary of state; Judge A. E. Cole, president of the Farmers' Alliance, for auditor general; Henry I. Allen of Schoolcraft for land commissioner; Ed S. Grece of Detroit for attorney general and David Parsons of Detroit for superintendent of public instruction.

Thousands-Mile Ticket Case.

LANSING, July 29.—At the June term of the supreme court an order to show cause was granted to the D. L. & N. Railroad company to show cause why it should not issue 1,000-mile tickets, good for any member of a family, in compliance with the law of 1892. The case was subsequently made a docket case for the October term. Today William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids was here, and after consultation with Mr. Brooks the case was discontinued by consent of both parties. The nature of the stipulations is not made public, but the only possible inference is, that the company has agreed to the demand of Mr. Brooks and will issue such tickets to the general public.

Yaple Wants to Run Again.

CHARLOTTE, Mich., July 29.—"Is George L. Yaple a candidate for governor?" Democrats here are asking themselves this question this morning. Ex-Mayor Robinson received a letter from Lansing this morning indicating that he is and that his speech before the people's party at Lansing a few days ago was in that direction. Saturday Mr. Yaple speaks before the people's party convention at Hastings and other movements indicate that he is in it. Should he receive the nomination, the impression among democrats is that the democratic convention would unanimously endorse him. The failure of the Barry county convention to elect its delegates to the state convention to support Mr. Yaple for congress is exactly in this line and is accepted as indicating that the Michigan may prefer gubernatorial to congressional honors.

Reformers Make Slates, Too. JACKSON, Mich., July 29.—Candidate Cole of the people's party has been in this city and had a long conference with George S. Wilson and Martin G. Loennecker, the leaders of the people's party movement. It has been virtually decided to nominate Mr. Cole for governor at the state convention to be held here next week. A. A. Ellis will be nominated as attorney general. Mr. Wilson said today: "Cole, Ellis and Richardson have talked the matter over and agreed substantially on this question. This city is really the headquarters for the people's party, although Lansing is ostensibly so considered. I feel quite sure Mr. Cole will be nominated for governor."

M. G. Loennecker said: "Mr. Cole will be nominated for governor on the first ballot. It's all settled. Mr. Ellis will be nominated as attorney general again." That's what Mr. Loennecker said, but the look in his eye when he said it indicated that he thought that the name of Martin G. Loennecker would make the ticket look better.

Didn't Look in the Bed. MIDDLEVILLE, Mich., July 29.—Thursday morning burglars entered Caldwell's restaurant and carried off $21 belonging to Miss White, who is living with Mrs. Caldwell. In the morning Mrs. Caldwell was found in the dining room insensible. The front door was open and the room was filled with the odor of chloroform. Had the door been closed she would undoubtedly have died. There was about $40 in the bed which the robbers failed to find.

Thursday night the barn of Orrin Leonard, two miles northwest of town, was struck by lightning. Loss about $400 with $100 insurance.

Unknown Wanderer Killed. THREE RIVERS, Mich., July 29.—An unknown young man about 18 years of age was found dead near the Michigan Central tracks, three miles west of this place. Both of his legs were crushed off below the knees, one of his thighs was broken and horribly gashed; his left shoulder was dislocated and there was a compound fracture of the skull.

There is nothing on his person by which he could be identified and there is no knowledge of how it happened.

U. P. Chautauquans. MARQUETTE, Mich., July 29.—A rally of all upper peninsula Chautauquans will take place at Deer Lake park, Alger county, August 11. Over 300 enthusiastic circle workers will be present. Lectures will be delivered by Dr. M. E. French, state president of the Minnesota Y. P. S. C. E., on "Self-culture," and by Mrs. Louise Millard Treat of Grand Rapids, on "The New Idea in Education."

Log Train Burned. LAKE CITY, Mich., July 29.—A forest fire was raging about four miles north of here, when a loaded log train attempted to dash through it. As the rails were spread the train went into the fire. Fireman Joseph Middleton was badly burned, and the others of the crew escaped. The engine and eight cars and their loads were all destroyed, entailing a loss of $10,000.

Arrested for Embezzlement. FLINT, July 29.—Frank Plumtree, a barber, against whom an indictment was found for embezzling $200 from his employers, a Chicago wholesale barber supply house, was taken back this morning. Plumtree has worked in this city for about two months. He consented to return to Chicago without a requisition, although one has been granted and is on its way to the city.

Was the Old Man Murdered? SAGINAW, July 29.—On July 14 the headless remains of a man were found in the Tittabawassee river, near this city. Today the body was disinterred and identified by Calvin B. Keyes of Clare as that of his father, Calvin Keyes. The deceased was 59 years of age and disappeared November 23 last, having $200 on his person. Foul play is suspected.

Won't Strike. BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 29.—The rumors of a prospective strike on the Chicago & Grand Trunk railroad seem to be entirely without foundation. Officials of the road state that no grievances from any of the employees have been presented, and that their relations with the company are highly satisfactory.

Recovered Her Sister. KALAMAZOO, July 29.—Mrs. Henry Heiner of Chicago came here in search of her 10-year-old sister, Mattie Smith, who was stolen in Chicago in October last by the fortune teller Sicily June. The humane officer found the child living with a woman here and returned her to Mrs. Heiner.

Where Was Abrams? BRIGHTON, Mich., July 29.—Frank Abrams, the farmer who mysteriously disappeared from his home last Sunday night, returned this morning. He cannot be understood to have any account of his wanderings or even intimate where he has been.

On Their Upers Now. CLARE, Mich., July 29.—Two weeks ago forty Clare men were colonized by a West Virginia chap and promised easy work and big wages. They went and are now sending back for money to pay for return tickets to Clare.

Once Enough for Horton. ADRIAN, Mich., July 29.—Ex-Senator Horton, who was unseated by the squabbling legislature, is out in a card declining to again make the run. It is made impossible by his largely increased business and plans for the near future.

Bay City's Hungry Multitude. BAY CITY, Mich., July 29.—It took eight men to deal out the merest necessities to the crowds of fire sufferers who came to headquarters for assistance yesterday. The cash donations now have reached $10,000.

Winans' Opinions Disclosed. CARLETON, July 29.—Governor Winans received a black eye at the hands of the democratic county convention held here. The delegates were specifically instructed to do all they could against his re-nomination.

Veteran Dead at Marcellus. MARCELLUS, Mich., July 29.—David Sanborn, an old pioneer of this place and proprietor of the Sanborn house, is dead. He had been sick for a long time and was a veteran of the late war. He was 65 years of age.

State Rakings. JOSEPH MATHIAS, the prettiest girl in Fort Gratiot, married Thomas D. Padlock of Cleveland in 1887 without knowing much about him. Padlock wasn't good for her, she says, and therefore she took the car to give her back her maiden name and let her keep a non-pareil edition of her husband, aged 4 years.

LUMPY-JAW IN CATTLE. A Remedy Has Been Found That May Prove of Great Benefit.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Secretary Rusk is in Chicago in connection with an experiment in which he takes a lively interest and which he is now preparing to try on a large scale in the treatment of the disease known as lumpy-jaw or actinomycosis in cattle. This disease is caused by a fungus which attacks various organs of the body and which, when it causes swellings on the head, is known in this country as lumpy-jaw. It is quite common in some parts of Europe as an affection of the tongue and has recently been treated successfully by the internal administration of iodine of potassium. It had not been tried in the form of the disease known as lumpy-jaw until within the last two months, when one of the inspectors of the bureau of animal industry made an experiment in which it proved very successful. The secretary now expects to have this treatment tested on 200 head of cattle affected with lumpy-jaw, so as to determine whether it will cure in all cases, or if not in all cases, what proportion can be successfully treated. The iodine of potassium is given in doses of iron ore to three drachms dissolved in a pint of water. It is best administered, too, before feeding the cattle, and a dose should vary according to their size and weight. If this treatment proves as successful as Secretary Rusk expects, it will enable the farmers of the country to cure their cattle when the disease first appears, and thus entirely prevent the loss which now occurs from it. This treatment is safe and very simple and can be applied without danger by any farmer. The effect of the medicine in doses of this size is to cause some catarrh, coughing and also peeling off of the skin, but this does not lead to any bad results and should cause no uneasiness. Improvement is generally noticed within ten days after beginning the use of the medicine, and a cure may be expected within a month.

Secretary Rusk is also interested in extending a microscopic inspection of pork. The demand for inspection of pork is continually increasing and as it brings about half cent more a pound in American and British markets than the un-inspected, there are numerous demands for inspection. The packing season begins in October and the secretary desires to have his force in condition to inspect a much larger number of carcasses than during the last season. The markets of Denmark, Germany, Austria, France, Spain and Italy have been open to inspected pork during the last year and it requires a very large quantity to supply them. The indication is that hereafter there will be a very considerable demand for inspected pork in the markets of other countries as well as those which will only take the inspected article. Since the inspection begin the price of hogs has been gradually increasing, and it is estimated that the farmers of the country will receive about 1 cent a pound more for hogs marketed this year than they would have received had there been no inspection. The secretary feels very much encouraged by the marked success which has attended the meat inspection, as when he first proposed the plan it was considered by many an impractical and visionary scheme and one which could only end in failure. Both the pork and beef inspection have gone on smoothly and have been carried out without delaying the operations of the packing establishments, and without any friction between the packers and the department. It is now certain that inspection meets the approval of both the producers and the consumers and that it must be extended as rapidly as possible until the entire meat product of the United States is inspected at the time of slaughter.

Don't Forget Unser Fritz.

Veneration for the Late Emperor Growing Among His Countrymen.

The veneration for the late Emperor Frederick is visibly growing with every recurring anniversary of his death. On the last occasion Potsdam, and especially the vicinity of the Friedenskirche, which contains the mausoleum, were in mourning. The emperor and empress visited the tomb and deposited a beautiful wreath of pink roses and white gladioli, with the imperial initials in gold on white satin. The six little princes brought wreaths of dark flowers, the name of each being printed in gold on white satin ribbons. The grand duke and grand duchess of Baden were represented by many an imperial prince, whose floral gifts bore the Badish crown and colors. All other members of the imperial family now there, including the duke and duchess of Meiningen, took tributes of love to the mausoleum, whereas Empress Frederick and her daughter had their tokens of loving remembrance laid down by their relatives. The royal theaters remained closed, and the widowed empress' palace carried the royal standard half mast, surrounded with crape. Most private houses had also black hangings, and almost innumerable wreaths and crosses and bouquets of lovely flowers were sent by ladies outside the court circle. Many of the principal towns were represented by deputations, and also, London, Queen Adelaide, all regiments with the colors of the deceased had been connected, while thousands and thousands of people crowded the church the whole day long to express their sympathy with the late monarch.

BIG FORESTS IN ARIZONA.

Heavy Timber Growth Not Utilized as Yet for Lack of Transportation.

Few people seem to realize—at least those who live outside the territory, and a good many who are here, says the Phoenix Herald—that Arizona has heavy forests which will ultimately give us native lumber. The question heretofore, and existing to a considerable extent at the present time, has been that of transportation. To be sure, the short road at Flagstaff has made it possible for the northern portion of the territory to have cheaper lumber to build with, but the southern portion has had to depend on California or Oregon for its supply.

This condition of things must eventually change, and in fact, the present railroad projects will make quite a difference. With the completion of the north and south road we can have native building material shipped in at a nominal cost. The road from Flagstaff to Phoenix, Yuma and on to San Diego will make it still easier and cheaper to get lumber into the southern part of the territory.

The resources of Arizona in this connection are quite extensive—in fact, enough so to furnish building material for home use for years to come. Transportation is the only drawback, and that is being rapidly settled. The forests of Arizona should and probably will be thoroughly represented at the world's fair. This fact alone will have the effect of inducing people to come here who now think we are entirely destitute in this respect. Arizona's wood is not confined to mesquite wood by any means, and the fact cannot be too strongly put to the people of the east.

LONDON'S LANDMARKS.

Two of the Oldest Houses in the Town Have Recently Been Demolished.

Two of the oldest houses in London have recently been demolished. They stood just east of St. Dunstan's church, in Fleet street, and narrowly escaped destruction in the great fire of 1666, which was arrested in its course of devastation just before reaching them. The date of these picturesque old structures, whose quaint projections and gabled fronts have hitherto charmed the eye of the Fleet street wanderer, is supposed to be about the beginning of the sixteenth century. Both houses were, it is believed, at one time bakeries.

ies, Henry Elsing having a bakery in one of them, with the sign of "The Spread Eagle." The house nearest to St. Dunstan's church has for nearly three centuries been either a book or music shop, and many a celebrated musician and man of letters must have crossed its venerable threshold. In a few days nothing will be left to mark the site of these houses, so full of memories of the distant past. The old order changeth, yielding place to new. Let us hope that the new may be worthy to stand where its predecessors have for nearly four hundred years.
